Technical and Compliance Advisor to the Accountancy Profession – £ Highly Competitive

HAT Group of Accountants

We provide technical support and assignment methodologies, compliance services and training courses to more than 250 accountancy firms across the UK. Our clients range from members of the Accountancy Age 'Top 50 + 50' to sole practitioners. Our areas of expertise include audit and assurance, financial reporting and practice procedures.

Established for almost fifty years, we work hard to provide our clients with a truly personal service and to be an excellent business to work for. We act as a firm's trusted compliance partner to ensure they remain fully compliant on current technical developments and issues. Our practical approach gives them peace of mind and more time to spend with their clients.

The Role

Due to increased demand for our services and to help build and expand the business, we are looking for an experienced accountant with a keen interest in financial reporting and auditing. This client facing role is at the centre of our small and friendly technical team and reports directly to the Managing Director. Regular visits to clients will be required but there will also be the opportunity to work from home on a frequent basis.

The successful candidate will have a significant degree of autonomy and will help provide the following services to our clients:

- Conducting both hot and cold file reviews on audit and specialist assignments, providing face to face feedback to clients and preparing detailed reports;
- Advising clients on our technical helpline covering all aspects of audit, financial reporting and practice compliance;
- Contributing to our suite of technical material and audit methodology.

You will have the opportunity to develop strong relationships with our clients. Appropriate training and support will be provided on an ongoing basis and there are opportunities for progression within the business.
